School board runoff set Tuesday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Hancock County School District voters will return to the polls Tuesday to select a school board representative for District 3 in a runoff election between Billy Joe Ladner and Carol Bustetter.

The election is being held at large to determine who will serve the unexpired portion of former board member Tommy Shaw who resigned earlier this year.

Bustetter, 49, of Diamondhead is a teacher with 27 years of experience. She has master's and reading specialist degrees from the University of New Orleans.

Ladner, 28, of Nacaise Crossing, is a graduate of Hancock North Central High School and studied agricultural education at Pearl River Junior College.

Polls for all residents of the Hancock County School District will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Waveland East, Waveland West, North Bay West, South Bay, City Hall, Central School and North Bay East precincts will not be open.

Bay-Waveland school superintendent calls conference days 'unbelievable success'

BY DENA BISNETTE

A first-time program in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District has shown how much concern parents have about their children's educations.

According to Superintendent of Education Roger Oge, the district's first scheduled set of parent-teacher conference days produced "an unbelievably positive response."

Oge said he has tried the program in other school districts where he has worked, but has never seen the participation level he found in the Bay-Waveland schools.

The program had not been tried in this school district, which has been using individually arranged conferences instead.

The conference program was scheduled on a Monday evening for parents unable to attend during the day, as well as on the following Tuesday.

Children did not attend school on that day and teachers divided the day between walk-in conferences and appointments.

Announcements of the conference days included an invitation to students to attend with their parents and discuss progress with their teachers, the superintendent said.

Two days had been provided for conferences in this year's school calendar, and another set of parent-teacher one-on-one meetings will be announced later this year.

Some teachers were able to obtain 100 percent participation from the parents of their students, Oge said.

"Most of the teachers really worked hard at it," he commented.

St. Rose Fifth Grade Center was the school with the best response, with a conference for every student enrolled.

"A 50 percent conference rate in public school is considered great, but figures like 95.4 percent and 98.3 percent of parents meeting with teachers are just unbelievable," the superintendent said.

"And there are no words to describe the level of effort by the teachers and concern of parents needed to get 100 percent, such as at the fifth grade center."

North Bay Elementary had the 98.3 percent participation level and Waveland Elementary School had 95.4 percent.

The number of conferences were reduced somewhat on the secondary grade levels, with the Bay Junior High School teachers conducting 1,338 conferences. The school's total

Perniciaro Pretense plea expected to be changed

Hancock County Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro, indicted in the Federal Bureau of Investigation's "Operation Pretense" in July, is expected to change his plea from innocent to guilty, according to a report from Jackson.

The supervisor pleaded innocent after being arrested at his home earlier this year on nine charges, including extortion, bribery, conspiracy to commit mail fraud and six counts of mail fraud.

He was accused of receiving kickbacks from two firms, Holiman Equipment and Davis Chemical. Some of the arrangements for the alleged deals involved using the mail to send false invoices and payments, resulting in the mail fraud charges.

He is also accused of getting the other board members to agree with him in approving a bid for a pothole patcher purchased from Holliman in exchange for $500, as well as billing the county for tires for a personal vehicle.

Perniciaro has received two delays from his original court date but was most recently scheduled to go to trial on Monday in federal court in Jackson.

He is represented by two Gulfport attorneys, Joe Sam Owen and Albert Nacaise.

Sun Herald Capitol Bureau Chief Gail Friedman has reported that Owen has stated that he will be unable to confirm whether the supervisor will change his plea to guilty until after he talks with a representative of the U.S. Attorney's office in Jackson Monday.

Owen said there are several considerations for plea bargaining in his client's case, including Perniciaro's age, 64; publicity about the case; and convictions in four "Operation Pretense" cases that have already been tried.

Company seeking special use zoning to allow construction of technical park

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission will Monday consider a special use zoning request by Charles Dickerson of Bay Technical Associates to allow construction of a technical park on Old Spanish Trail.

The commission took the matter under advisement at its meeting last week.

In this meeting, commission members heard a lengthy discussion of the project and other possible uses of the land as well as opposition to the project from area residents.

The Bay Tech property is bordered by St. Charles Street, Old Spanish Trail, L&N Railroad Tracks and two land lots zoned for industrial development.

Currently, land in the Bay Tech parcel encompasses three residential zoning categories.

The strictest of these zoning areas is R-1, which allows only single family dwellings, gardens, playgrounds and other public and semi-public buildings.

R-2 and R-3 are also in the areas and allow for two-family dwellings, apartments, mobile home parks, and hotels and motels, as approved by the planning commission.

The request for a special use category is to allow development of a high tech business.

A well-designed, landscaped business park would be an ideal buffer between the existing residences and other area property, where potentially objectionable development could take place, according to an analysis by Argus Architects of

County, MHP, district attorney search for missing five-year-old

BY DENA BISNETTE

Hancock County authorities, District Attorney Cono Carranna's office and the Mississippi Highway Patrol's investigation division are trying to determine the whereabouts of Dorrie Singley's little girl.

Five-year-old Crystal Marie Singley, also called Chrissy, has been missing since before her mother, Dorrie Lynn Singley, died Oct. 14 in a New Orleans, La., hospital, where she was registered under an assumed name, Carranna said.

Singley had hidden the child during a custody battle with her former husband after claiming that he had sexually abused the girl.

However, a Marion County judge had awarded custody of Foxworth to her father, and Singley had been jailed at one time for failing to turn the child over to him.

"We are reactivating the file, or I should say emphasizing, since it has been active all along," the district attorney said in a Friday afternoon press conference in which he was joined by Sheriff Ronald Peterson.

He said Peterson became involved because Singley and the child were at one time living in Ansley with Singley's mother, and because the girl had been seen in Hancock County after the Aug. 4 court order.

She has not been seen at all since Aug. 27, about five days after Singley failed to appear in court in Marion County.

The home had been searched before Singley's death but Foxworth was not found there, Peterson said.

Carranna said the authorities participating in the investigation planned to try to locate the child over the weekend and that "warrants for the arrest of the proper parties would be issued" Monday or early in the week if the effort failed.

If she has been taken across state lines, the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be asked to assist in the case.

"We are eager to determine if the child is still in the state and if she is not, to determine where she is in order to assist the FBI," Carranna said.

Anyone with information on the child's whereabouts is asked to call the sheriff's department at 467-5101, Mississippi Highway Patrol at 864-1314 or Carranna's office at 864-4003.

Fire damages Ballentine Street house

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Self-sustaining ignition by heat from the fireplace is listed as the cause of the fire which damaged one room in a house on Ballentine Street in Bay St. Louis.

There was significant damage in the living room and minor damage to the roof caused by the fire at the home of Larry Lewis, 248 Ballentine St.

Bay Fire Chief Andrew Lizana said heat from the fireplace had caused the wood surrounding the area to dry out and the fire had most likely started without a spark or flame.

"It takes a long time for the wood to dry out down here because we don't have long spells of cold weather," he said.

Lizana said self-sustaining ignition is a particular hazard in houses built before building codes required a spacing between the fireplace and the walls.

Sometimes it takes 25 years or more, but eventually the wood will dry out and fireplaces must be carefully watched to prevent a hazardous fire, he said.

Lizana also said area residents need to have fireplaces and heaters checked and cleaned before using.

"The fire department has made three runs on smoke odor in a structure," he said.

The fire was reported by John (Mose) Williams approximately 9:30 a.m.

According to Lizana, the fire was out by 10 a.m.

Bay St. Louis firefighters Lt. Alphonse Sheppard and Pam San Fillipo and Lizana were first on the scene.

There were no injuries in the incident; however, Lewis' wife and child were in the house when the fire started.

Lizana said he really thanks the volunteers who helped out at the scene, including Steve Garber and the Bay St. Louis Police Department for an excellent job of crowd and traffic control.

Dr. Ted J. Alexander, president of Pearl River Junior College, presented a plaque to Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray Post 77, The American Legion, Waveland, at the post's November meeting in appreciation of the post's donations to the school's scholarship fund.

Alexander said the award was made in 'grateful appreciation' on behalf of himself, the staff and faculty of the junior college and the Hancock County students who had received the scholarships.

He further stated that those funds had meant the difference as to whether some students were financially able to continue their education past high school.

He thanked the members of Post 77 for their generosity and for their concern for the educational needs of the local students.

Post 77 is the largest single contributor to the PRC scholarship fund, having contributed $68,000 since 1981. The post is now donating $12,000 per year for 12 $1,000 scholarships with the only stipulation by the post being that the scholarship recipient be from Hancock County. The college determines all other qualifications and grants the scholarships.

Others attending the meeting to express their appreciation on behalf of the college, local schools and students were James Thriffiley, chairman of the Board of Trustees of PRC, and Dr. Roger Oge, superintendent of the Bay-Waveland School District.

Accepting the award for Post 77 was Commander L.D. "Danny" Carter, who is also a member of the Bay-Waveland School Board.

We remember the proud protector as she stood watch over the island for nearly a century.

In her day, the magnificent wooden structure known as Ship Island Lighthouse was a certain sign of security, summoning weary sailors home from the sea.

She weathered every storm, even Camille. And even though a careless camper's fire destroyed her in 1972, folks fondly recall South Mississippi's most loyal lady.

It's no coincidence that Hancock Bank chose Ship Island Lighthouse to be its symbol. Both were born here. And both share nearly a century of strength, security and service.

And just as sailors of old looked to the lighthouse beacon for guidance, so too do thousands of South Mississippi families look to Hancock Bank.

We'll always be here, in good times and bad, through every storm. Making it possible for South Mississippians to realize their hopes and dreams.

Christmas is fast approaching and many folks are beginning to make preparations.

We had a conversation with Libby Milner, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce executive director, on Friday and she tells us plans are underway for the biggest and best ever annual Christmas Parade for the area, which is set for Thursday, Dec. 3.

We will be giving you more information as the date nears, and feel this would be a good time to remind you of the date.

This will be a good opportunity for youngsters to give Santa their wish list for Christmas.

It is really a thrill to watch the some of the youngsters as they approach Santa.

We hope to see your children visit Santa.

On Tuesday a run-off election will be held to name a District Three Hancock County School Board member.

All qualified electors residing in the Hancock County School District are urged to get out and vote. This involves about one half of the residents of our county.

School board members play a very important role in our society.

Call your friends and remind them of the election on Tuesday.

Don't forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition coffee on Tuesday, 7:30 a.m. at Scafield's Wheel Inn Restaurant, U.S.-90, Bay St. Louis.

Alan R. Barton, president and chief executive officer of Mississippi Power Company, will be the featured speaker.

Barton will talk on the potential in economic development of Hancock County and Mississippi Gulf Coast.

We hope to see you at the chamber's Morning Edition.

Congratulations are in order for Ethel Favre of Bay St. Louis upon receiving the Wise Support Staff Award from the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

A secretary at the Extension Service in Hancock County for 42 years, Mrs. Ethel has seen quite a few county agents, home economists and 4-H agents come and go.

She was selected from over 400 secretaries across the state and we feel this is a very good award for an outstanding person.

The presentation was made at the state's Extension Recognition Dinner.

Darlene Underwood, home economist; and Lee Taylor, county agent, both received 10 years of service with the federal government awards at the dinner.

Underwood and Taylor are also doing a very good job for the Extension Service in Hancock County.

SERIOUS BUDGET AT LAST

A bi-partisan group of Congressional leaders, of which I am one, is now meeting with Administration officials. We are trying to reach a deficit reduction agreement. It's about time!

For ten months, Democrats have been insisting on raising your taxes and cutting your defense. The President, however, has maintained that we should cut the deficit by cutting spending. The result...stalemate. It's time to break the tie!

This legislative session is almost over. If we don't solve the problem now, the Gramm-Rudman Deficit Reduction Act will solve it for us. There is now a sense of urgency in Washington. The Stock Market is still on a roller-coaster ride and there is general agreement that our budget deficit is to blame.

If we can reach a serious agreement; a bi-partisan agreement, we can reduce the deficit, and that would send a positive message to Wall Street.

This would also send a message to the people of this country; an important message about our future.

It will be tough, but I believe there is hope. After several meetings, I am impressed with the positive tone of these negotiations. Participants on both sides of the aisle realize that we urgently need to reach a conclusion, and soon. We don't need posturing. We don't need grandstanding. What we do need is teamwork.

The economy of this country is not a political or partisan issue. We must rise above the rhetoric and do what is right...for all Americans.

BIG IMPROVEMENT—The appearance of an old grocery store in downtown Bay St. Louis has tremendously improved as the home of Bay Technical Associates, Inc. (Bay Tech), with renovations underway. Charles (Chuck) Ramsey reports the landscaping now in process is being done 'in house' and should be completed within two months. The building located on North Second Street is now used for the manufacture of electronics equipment with some 64 employees. This is the type of businesses needed in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County to help stimulate our economy. Bay Tech's business is the type popular in the Silicon Valley, Calif. area. House leadership candidates form North/South coalition Representative Glenn Endris of Biloxi has announced his candidacy for speaker pro tempore of the Mississippi House of Representatives and promptly received the endorsement of speaker-candidate Ed Perry of Oxford.

The joint announcement signals the formation of an unprecedented north/south coalition that would guarantee a regional balance in the leadership of the House, they feel.

Endris said, "My decision to run as speaker pro tempore alongside Ed Perry as speaker is to assure that South Mississippi will have a voice in the critical decisions facing our state."

"It is obvious at this time that the political leadership of the state—governor, Lt. governor, president pro tempore of the senate, and speaker of the house—will all be from North Mississippi."

"I believe it is necessary that South Mississippi, which is that area of the state with the largest population and which contributes the greater share of tax dollars, deserves a voice in those decisions."

Perry said, "It is only fair that if the speaker is from one part of the state, then the speaker pro tempore should be from another. It is our purpose here today to establish a leadership team in the House of Representatives that can work constructively to bring about real change in this state that will benefit every citizen."

Both men have played key leadership roles in pressing progressive legislation that has created the foundation for change in Mississippi.

"Ed Perry's unselfish work for the Port of Gulfport, his consistent support of the University of Southern Mississippi, and his efforts to secure Pascagoula's home port are concrete demonstrations of his commitment to South Mississippi and therefore to the entire State," Endris declared.

Perry cited Endris' backing of the 1987 Highway Bill and Mississippi's pursuit of the Super Collider as "examples of the vision we need to continue to move Mississippi forward."

Endris and Perry have been widely recognized for their joint efforts in initiating the dramatic first-day funding for kindergartens and teacher pay in 1986.

Both men agreed, "It will take all of us working together to seize the opportunities for progress we now have before us. We can ill afford to waste even one minute in struggling for power that excludes individuals or regions."

SUPER COLLIDER SYMPOSIUM TO SHOWCASE STATE SITE

The State of Mississippi will host a symposium on Nov. 20 to show the rest of the nation and national media the strength of our proposed site for the multi-billion dollar supercolliding super collider.

The one-day seminar will be held at Humphreys Coliseum at Mississippi State University in Starkville. We are encouraging all Mississippians to attend.

We hope to use this opportunity to outline our proposal for some of the national media who are expected to attend the symposium. We are also very excited that a number of nationally famous scientists, who are involved in the super collider project, have agreed to be our guest speakers.

We have also invited members of the congressional delegations from Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama to be our special guests during a luncheon at the symposium. These three delegations are working in support of Mississippi's proposed site, located in a four-county area of east central Mississippi.

Mississippi is presently the only state without any organized opposition to our proposal. We are the only state with a separate agency designed to oversee the super collider project. And our state financial package in support of the project is the largest of any submitted to the U.S. Department of Energy.

We are also unique because citizens in the proposed site area have organized the Commission on Community Excellence. This group of private citizens has raised money, placed national ads and helped plan and produce the symposium.

Our efforts to date have convinced that Mississippi is one of the top, if not the top, states under consideration for this project. We are continuing to do everything possible to insure that we will be on the short list of recommended sites and, ultimately, the only site recommended.

Mississippi Economic Council

State Lawmakers are lining up in support of mandatory county unit legislation, according to the results of a survey conducted by the Mississippi Economic Council.

The Council survey indicated that 76 percent of the Senate members and 62 percent of the House members support legislation mandating the unit system.

Another seven percent of the House members responding and 28 percent of the Senate members indicated they are opposed to mandatory county unit.

MEC, the state's largest business organization, conducted the survey during and after the recent statewide campaign. Sixty-one percent of the Senate members responded to the survey, and 55 percent of the House members.

MEC President Bob Pittman said the survey results indicate that support has increased among lawmakers for mandatory county unit legislation.

"Taxpayers obviously have indicated to their representatives that they are tired of their money being wasted in the outdated, inefficient beat system," he said.

The Legislature included mandatory county unit in major highway legislation adopted in 1981, but legislators then permitted counties to vote to ignore the county unit mandate.

Most county boards of supervisors voted for the exemption.

Today, just over one quarter of the counties have approved the unit system.

REPORT TO MISSISSIPPIANS

OCTOBER CRASH PUSHES DEFICIT REDUCTION EFFORTS

A renewed sense of urgency concerning the need for action to reduce the federal budget deficit has resulted from the October crash of the American stock market. To the extent that we can use this current recognition of the need to act to achieve a meaningful reduction in the deficit, the country can move into a stronger, more financially responsible position which will greatly improve our chances for continued economic vitality.

It does not require a scholar in economics to realize that we cannot go on spending more than we take in year after year without eventually facing a day of reckoning. Every one of us knows from personal experience with our own check books that income and outgo must be brought into balance if we are to be financially solvent. The same principle applies to our government.

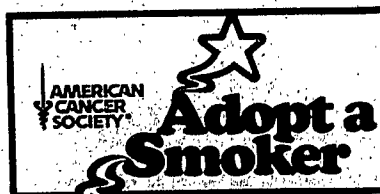

For a long time now I have been calling for adoption of a constitutional amendment that would require that the federal budget be balanced at the end of each fiscal year. Frankly, I believe the only sure way to return to a financially sound basis is to impose the requirement of law that would absolutely prevent spending more than we have. I hope that we will eventually be able to adopt a balanced budget amendment, but we cannot wait for that to happen. We must move down the road to reducing the deficit now.

The most immediate goal is a $23 billion reduction in the budget deficit for fiscal year 1988. I am one of the members of Congress negotiating now with the President in an effort to achieve that reduction, and I believe we are making some headway. Everyone involved in the process is sincere in wanting to cut the deficit even though such action requires difficult decisions.

Frankly, I believe the problem must be approached from both ends, both outgo and income. We cannot afford drastic reductions that would cause real harm to our economy, but we could achieve significant cuts which could be combined with modest increases in income to help reduce the deficit.

If we can cut the deficit now and pave the way for continued reductions in coming years, we can begin to restore confidence in the ability of our government to meet obligations and maintain economic stability. It is impossible to predict the effect of such action on the stock market or other parts of our financial system, but the high expectation is that our overall economic outlook would be greatly improved.

Perhaps we will go through a period of some difficulty in this process, but we absolutely must meet our responsibility now in order to protect the American economy for future generations. I do believe we are at a crucial point in our nation's history, and failure or weakness now will greatly harm our strength and vitality as a nation. We have come too far in the last 200 years to allow self-destruction to occur from failure to act. We are not in a situation that is beyond our control, but we are in a situation requiring self-discipline and some sacrifice. We cannot do everything we want to do -- we must face the tough decisions and make the tough choices.

Supervisors, commissioners, fishermen to consider hiring county harbormaster

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has appointed two of its members to work with the Port and Harbor Commission and Gulf Fisherman's Association regarding the hiring of a county harbormaster.

Ronnie Farrell, who appeared at Friday's board meeting to represent the fishermen, and Port and Harbor Executive Director Harold Olsen both told the board that a harbormaster is needed most at Bayou Cadet.

Farrell said the fishermen have had serious problems that could be reduced if there is someone to watch the Bayou Cadet facility.

Presently, there is no one to enforce rules regarding where boats should dock.

In addition, some of the boat crews leave trash, including large items like pieces of piling, on docks and at other facilities.

"Trash is a serious problem out there," Farrell said. "It's everywhere."

Another problem is theft, he added.

"We've haven't had just things like radios, we've had entire consoles stolen out of boats. People have taken expensive trawls. They just cut the cable and carry them off," he told the board.

He added that the fisherman's association would be willing to put up about $9,000 per year toward a harbormaster's salary.

"That's too much for a harbormaster," Board President James Travirca said.

Beat Two Supervisor Ronald Cuevas, however, pointed out that a harbormaster for the county would not be limited to duties at Bayou Cadet.

He said a harbormaster should also be in charge of the county's other piers, boat launches and water-related facilities.

Travirca appointed Cuevas and Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner to meet with the port commission and members of the fisherman's association to discuss the matter and possibly make a recommendation to the supervisors.

In other business Friday, the board:

—Agreed to allow County Tax Collector and Assessor Edward Murtagh to begin tax collections in December; add three temporary employees and to keep his office open a half-day on Saturdays during January, which is peak tax collection time;

—Approved addition of an additional tax office computer operator for the purpose of completing address data for implementation of the county's enhanced 911 emergency telephone system;

—Approved a 25-year lease on the American Legion Veterans Memorial Public Pier and agreed to pursue a 50-50 matching grant for a $100,000 pier improvement project;

—Approved Cuevas' request for permission to inspect the Hancock County Welfare Department building on Necaise Avenue in order to find out what will have to be done to prepare the structure for winter; and —Gave County Engineer Larry Seal permission to pursue a Bureau of Marine Resources grant for replacement of two damaged box culverts on Beach Road.

The board meeting was recessed to 9 a.m. Nov. 30.

Federal funds available to Hancock County emergency food and shelter programs

Hancock County has been chosen to receive $1,938 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.

The selection was made by a national board made up of affiliates of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

United Way of America will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent.

The Board was charged to distribute $10 million appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country.

A local citizens board will determine how the funds awarded to Hancock County are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service organizations in the area.

The local board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program.

Under terms of the grant from the national board, local governmental or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must: 1) be non-profit, 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, 3) practice non-discrimination, 4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter and 5) have a voluntary board if they are a private voluntary organization.

Qualifying organizations are urged to apply by Tuesday, Nov. 17 to Conrad Mauffray, Executive Director for United Way, Post Office Box 142, Bay St. Louis, 39520.

Hancock County has distributed Emergency Food and Shelter funds previously with Catholic Social Services participating.

MSU researchers complete fourth freshwater shrimp harvest

Researchers moved one step closer to making freshwater shrimp an economically feasible crop for Mississippi with a fourth consecutive harvest from test ponds at Mississippi State University.

This year, Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station researchers tried cutting feed levels in half, with good results, according to Dr. Marty Fuller, an agricultural economist.

"We saved about $250 an acre in feed and the yield sizes of the shrimp didn't seem to suffer," he explained.

Researchers stocked lower numbers of shrimp per pond this year—12,000-20,000 per acre. The total yield was smaller, but the shrimp themselves were larger, said Dr. Louis D'Abramo, aquaculture biologist with the department of wildlife and fisheries.

An average pound of shrimp numbered 15, with heads. A few of the 21 ponds produced a 10-count average.

In 1986, researchers stocked ponds at anywhere from 16,000 to 32,000 shrimp per acre.

Except for a few ponds which experienced a strictly localized water quality problem, D'Abramo said the survival rate this year was 70-80 percent. "We think we can consistently get that survival rate," he said.

Both men agree that 1988 will be a "critical" year for the freshwater shrimp project, by using hatchery facilities at MSU, and maybe on the Gulf Coast, ponds will be stocked with homegrown seed stock, which should be a big money saver.

"Seed stock costs are a large amount of operating expenses as they have to be imported from out of the country," D'Abramo said. "If we can raise our own here, we think we can really cut costs and there would be good economic potential for the shrimp in Mississippi."

Pond management will continue to be researched and the scientists will expand their research next year. Instead of the one-tenth to nine-tenths of an acre ponds they have been using for experiments, D'Abramo and Fuller hope to use 4- to 5-acre ponds at one of the MAFES branch experiment stations.

As D'Abramo explained, researchers know they can raise the shrimp in Mississippi. That's been proved. Now they need to prove the crop's economic feasibility in both the Delta and Northeast Mississippi.

"We still believe it (shrimp farming) has potential here and the large pond tests will answer more about that," Fuller said.

D'Abramo agreed, "1987 was a very worthwhile year."

Amahl and the Night Visitors to be presented

Gian-Carlo Menotti's Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be presented on Sunday, Dec. 6 at 3:30 p.m. at the Saenger Theatre in Biloxi.

The performance is being sponsored by the Gulf Coast Arts Council and made possible in part by the Mississippi Arts Commission and the National Endowment of the Arts.

The opera tells the story of a little crippled boy and his mother who are visited by the Three Kings on their star-guided way to Bethlehem.

"Amahl" was written by Menotti in 1951 on a commission from NBC.

One of the stars of that production, David Aiken, who played King Melchior in the original cast, directs nationwide tours of the popular Christmas musical which are fully staged and costumed productions featuring soloists and chorus with an instrumental ensemble.

Menotti's Christmas opera is sung in English, lasts about one hour and is a musical for children of all ages.

A celebration of the Christmas spirit, it features solo, choral and instrumental numbers of seasonal songs.

Included will be several sing-along selections for stage ensemble and the audience.

WLOX-TV 13 AND MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST CHEVROLET DEALERS ENLIST IN SALVATION ARMY

WLOX-TV and Mississippi Gulf Coast Chevy Dealers have launched a program to see HOW MANY NEW 1988 CHEVY TRUCKS can be filled with food for the Salvation Army!

All four Mississippi Gulf Coast Chevy Dealers have new '88 Chevy Pickups in their showrooms ready to be filled with non-perishable food items. Employees and owners at each Chevrolet dealership are doing their part by bringing in food items to fill the pickups. WLOX-TV personnel are also collecting food items for this program to help the Salvation Army meet a very heavy holiday season food demand.

YOU CAN HELP, TOO! Your Mississippi Gulf Coast Chevy Dealers and WLOX-TV urge you to bring your non-perishable food items to your Chevy dealer. The more new '88 Chevy Pickups we can fill - the more people we can help the Salvation Army serve.

If everyone would just bring in 2 or 3 cans just think how many Chevy trucks could be filled!

Your Mississippi Gulf Coast Chevy Dealers Association is comprised of: Mike Witte Chevrolet, Hwy. 90 West, Bay St. Louis; Turan-Lane Chevrolet, 2120 15th Street, Gulfport; Dees Chevrolet, 218 Main St., Biloxi; and Gerry Lane Chevrolet, 14th Street, Pascagoula.

Salvation Army Officers working with WLOX-TV and the Chevrolet dealers on this project are Capt. Sloan and Major Tilly. The Chevy Dealers will accept food donations Monday thru Saturday until Noon, Nov. 23rd.

Because "Sharing is caring" we know the people of the Mississippi Gulf Coast will really pitch in, and load-after-load of much needed food items will be collected for the Salvation Army Thanksgiving Food Drive.

Your Mississippi Gulf Coast Chevrolet Dealers; WLOX-TV; and the Salvation Army thank you for sharing...and Caring!

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE—U.S. Army Reserve Lt. Col. Henry J. Cook III, second from right, a Bay St. Louis attorney, is among members of a Gulf Coast Viet Nam Memorial Committee visiting the recent showing of a half-scale replica of the Washington D.C. Viet Nam Memorial Wall which was displayed on the campus of Loyola University in New Orleans, La. The Gulf Coast committee is negotiating to bring the traveling memorial to Biloxi next year. The committee is also developing plans for a permanent Viet Nam Memorial on the Gulf Coast. Other committee members include, from left, Thomas Vu, Ray Martin, Clifford East, Phillip Tran, Wayne Berry, Gary Ramon, Mike Patton, Cook, and Hu-g Huu Nguyen, all of Biloxi.

New Orleans regarding the types of projects that could be developed on the property.

The current industrial zoning of property adjacent to the Bay Tech property allows for planned industrial parks of any industrial use as allowed by the planning commission.

Charles R. Ramsey, president of Bay Technical Associates, said he believes allowing the construction of the park will not be good for Bay St. Louis as it allows for expansion of Bay Tech.

"We are a Bay St. Louis-based company utilizing local banks and insurance companies and most all of the employees are from the area," he said.

These are major differences between Bay Tech and other businesses that might be considering expansion in the area, Ramsey added.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. said the city's original zoning ordinance did not plan for this kind of business park, but developments like this are the "wave of the future."

"We have to find ways to make room for this new breed of development without hurting our quality of life," he added.

"Bay Tech's proposal is the first of its kind on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It continues the trend that is rapidly making Hancock County the high tech center of Mississippi," Frankiewicz said.

"Technical activities here have attracted attention from neighboring communities. Harrison and Jackson counties have already tried to lure away many of the same companies Bay St. Louis has been trying to help expand," he said.

"We also get a lot of competition from Florida's growth areas," Frankiewicz said.

The commission meeting to consider the zoning change will begin at 7:30 at city hall.

Fishermen get new launching ramps

JACKSON—Fishermen in central and southwest Mississippi have new boat launching ramps for better access to fishing opportunities in their areas.

A new launching ramp has been built west of Canton by the state Department of Wildlife Conservation and the Madison County Board of Supervisors.

The new ramp provides access to the big Black River at the Highway 16 bridge crossing.

Open to the public without charge, the new ramp allows better access to the river for conservation enforcement work, in addition to more fishing opportunities.

The Board of Supervisors provided assistance in obtaining the lease for the ramp, while District Four workers helped in building the parking lot.

Meanwhile, the Wildlife Department and the Lincoln County Board of Supervisors have completed construction of a new public boat ramp near Bogue Chitto.

The ramp provides access to the Bogue Chitto River and is open to the public without charge.

The site for the Lincoln County ramp was leased to the Wildlife Department by E. Everett Busby, Jr.

The Southwest Mississippi Resource Conservation and Development Area office, and the Lincoln County Soil and Water conservation District assisted in the development and coordination of the project. District Three workers constructed the parking lot for the ramp.

Both boat ramps were constructed by the Department of Wildlife Conservation using federal aid funds made available to the agency through the Dingell-Johnson Act.

Dingell-Johnson monies are federal excise taxes collected on the sale of boats, motors, fishing and boating equipment, and marine fuel.

Fisheries officials in Jackson said that the 1986 Wallop-Breaux Act expanded the amount of money available to individual states. The program allows the department to build some 10 new ramps each year and repair existing ones, they said.

Saenger to present 'Scrooge, The Musical'

The Friends of the Saenger and the City of Biloxi offer Seasons Greetings to the Coast with the production of 'Scrooge, The Musical.'

Rehearsals are underway.

Director is Kinard Fite with musical direction by Gary Lamb and Kathy Dodge and choreography by Sharon Loiacano.

The 78 member cast and crew includes talent spreading from North Jackson County to Bay St. Louis and features such notables as Andy Kalberg as the miserable Ebenezer Scrooge.

Kalberg can be remembered as the Artful Dodger in the Saenger's production of 'Oliver' last summer.

Don Moore last seen in Center Stage's 'Inherit The Wind' is cast as the forever optimistic Bob Cratchit with singer Renee Sokol as his wife. Tiny Tim will be played by 7-year-old Matthew Hashman of Gulfport with Vanessa Piere of 'Annie' fame as his older sister, Kathy.

Scrooge is visited by four enchanting spirits. The first is that of Marley, his business partner, played by veteran actor Robert Newton. Altha G. Delacruz, well-known character actress and vocalist, appears as the dignified Spirit of Christmas Past.

Harry Evers, phantom of the Gulf Coast Opera Theatre, enters as the Spirit of Christmas Present and Jason Richards will delight audiences with his portrayal of the Spirit of Christmas Yet to Come.

The beaming, loveable Fezziwigs are portrayed by Jim Lebatard and Elizabeth Moody and vendor Tom Jenkins is played by music publisher J.R. Bibey of Gulfport.

This highlights only a small portion of the great talent involved with this production on and off stage.

The set will be designed by Kinard Fite with Joe Matturri in charge of construction. Stage management will be done by the Saenger's own, Ron Leutjen, assisted by Ouida Matturri and Joyce Brown.

The cast will take on their Dickensian look with the expertise of Ann Dauda, costume designer, and Michael Rosetti, make-up artist.

Performances will be at 8 p.m. on Dec. 4 and 5 with 2 p.m. Saturday matinee.

Tickets will be $9 for reserved

Hearing slated on handicapped test scores

The State Department of Education will hold a public hearing on Wednesday, Nov. 18 on the qualifying score for the Functional Literacy Exam for Mississippi 11th-graders.

Included in the hearing will be proposed modifications of testing requirements and procedures for students with identifiable handicaps or disabilities. The hearing will be held in the Woolfolk State Office Building Auditorium from 7-9 p.m.

Beginning with this year's 11th grade class, passage of the Functional Literacy Exam is one of the requirements for students who wish to receive a standard high school diploma in Mississippi.

Following the public hearing, the State Board of Education must approve the qualifying scores and testing modifications for handicapped students. Final approval of these items is expected at the Board's December meeting.

Prior to the hearing, the SDE will hold an informational session on the Functional Literacy Exam. This session is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. on Nov. 18. It will also be held in the Woolfolk Auditorium.

This meeting will include information on the qualifying scores, retest opportunities, makeup tests, and other issues relating to the FLE.

State Board of Education members and SDE staff members will be present at the public hearing to accept testimony concerning the FLE. The following rules will apply:

The titles for the two-day seminar were: "Spinal Biomechanics" and "Specific Segmental Adjusting."

Mississippi Associated Chiropractors, headed by Dr. Rick Murphree of Greenwood, president, presents two seminars each year which provide Mississippi chiropractors with necessary credits for license renewal. All doctors of chiropractic holding Mississippi licenses must complete a set number of hours of approved continuing education to renew their licenses annually.

A special exhibit of products and services used in chiropractic clinics was on display throughout the convention. Also on the program at the fall convention were special training workshops planned by Judy Ritch for chiropractic assistants and for registered technicians.

Among other events planned during the weekend was a meeting of the MAC Ladies Auxiliary headed by Mrs. Lisa Weed from the Gulf Coast.

Palmer College of Chiropractic held a mini-reunion of its alumni in Mississippi during the weekend. A

YMCA can be home

BOWL BOUND—Coach Mike Peterson will take his 7-3 Pope John Paul High School Jaguars of Slidell, La. into the 1987 Shrimp Bowl in Biloxi against an as yet unchosen opponent. Peterson, a Bay St. Louis native and 1972 graduate of Bay Senior High who played his prep football under former Coach J. E. Loiacano, said he will sign the bowl contract Saturday. The event will be played Nov. 20 or 21 at Biloxi Municipal Stadium. "This is a special and prestigious opportunity for us," Peterson said of the Louisiana AA Jaguars' selection. Peterson has served as assistant coach at Jesuit High School in New Orleans and E. D. White High School in Thibodaux, La. He was athletic director and head coach at Central Catholic High in Morgan City, La. where his teams won two district championships and participated in state playoffs three consecutive years. During his three years at the 450-coed-student Pope John Paul, the Jaguars have participated in St. Tammany Parish's Ozone Bowl and state playoffs last year, as well as the Shrimp Bowl this year. Peterson is the son of Angie and Leroy Peterson, residents of Old Spanish Trail, Waveland.

Editor's Note: Following is the 15th in a series of articles being presented by the Sea Coast Echo on agencies which are partially funded by the United Way of Hancock County. The local United Way 1987 fundraising drive is currently underway. Lonnie Clayborn of Waveland is chairman of this year's drive. The goal is $65,000.

By Rob Breaux
Gulf Coast YMCA

When I was a kid, the YMCA played a large part in my life. First, since we lived in the north, it gave me a warm place to go in the winter to learn sports and be with other kids.

I remember learning how to play chess and even rug weaving, and I also remember the people I met.

My family was never really a close group. We loved each other, but we all seemed to have our own roads to travel.

So the "Y" to me became a second home, and everyone there was so friendly and knew all about the things I wanted to know, like swimming, basketball, weightlifting, etc.

And nobody fussed or yelled if I didn't learn fast enough, or made a mistake that cost my team the game.

I believe those qualities are what sets the YMCA apart. At an age when I could have been learning how to steal hubcaps or making a zip-gun, I was learning some basic Christian values, even if I didn't know it at the time.

Sportsmanship, fairplay, and teamwork were very cleverly slipped into my memory banks by staff members and volunteers who showed genuine concern for me.

We here on the Gulf Coast need the YMCA. We need the philosophy of it, the people of it, the knowledge of it, and the spirit of it.

Particularly because much of our lives is spent on or near the water. No one, and no organization has taught more people how to swim, or how to rescue those who are less fortunate.

Swimming and water safety are but some of the ways today's YMCA meets the needs of our community. Well equipped weight-rooms and exercise classes manned by knowledgeable, caring instructors can get us into shape, tone us up, and make us feel better about ourselves by giving us a better self-image.

And by being in shape, by being physically stronger, we are able to handle every-day life much easier, and with less stress.

Most YMCA facilities are modern, comfortable, and usually equipped with pools, saunas, whirlpools, steamrooms, exercise rooms, child-care areas, running tracks, and most now have tanning booths.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA's have these amenities and more.

Classes are offered in martial arts, aerobics, bodybuilding, painting, canoeing, square dancing, gymnastics, tennis, crp, first-aid, and more.

Usual "Y" policy is that if enough people are interested in a particular subject, we'll (the "Y") find a qualified instructor and hold class.

The YMCA has kept up with the times. Yes, it's changed in appearance, the buildings are modern and shiny and bright, but the spirit remains the same.

The Christian values are still there for you and your children. The "Y" is all about community, and giving and sharing, and for everyone, all nationalities, all races, the young and the aged rich and poor, the healthy and the handicapped, all God's children.

Please continue to support the Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA through the United Way in your area, Gulfport, Ocean Springs, and Long Beach, you'll be glad you did.

USM schedules Dull lecture

LONG BEACH—A leading authority on the deadly AIDS virus will speak at the University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Park campus Wednesday.

Dr. Bruce Dull—former assistant director of the Atlanta-based Center for Disease Control and one of the nation's most respected authorities on AIDS and other infectious diseases—will speak on "AIDS and YOU" at 7:30 p.m. in the Hardy Hall Auditorium on the Gulf Park campus.

Dull has been an epidemiologist (a "disease detective") for more than 25 years. In addition to his AIDS work, he has been involved in the investigations of such well-known health threats as Swine Flu, Legionnaire's disease, Herpes and Toxic Shock Syndrome, as well as ongoing diseases such as smallpox, cholera and polio.

Experienced in the exhaustive search for clues to uncover the source and pattern of a disease, Dull is well-equipped to answer questions on AIDS, and to dispel some of the misinformation and fear that surround the dreaded disease.

A graduate of Harvard and Case Western Universities, Dull served at the national disease center for more than 15 years, working on infectious diseases, virology and international and public health administration.

He now serves as clinical associate professor at Emory University of medicine and as a consultant in preventative medicine.

The public is invited to attend at no charge.

Lady Cats win opening game

Freshman center Antrice McGill hit for a game-high 23 points Tuesday to help Pearl River to an 83-64 opening season win over Meridian in women's junior college basketball.

The game and the victory were the first of first-year head coach Polly Kirkland. Kirkland was coach of the Lady Tigers in Hattiesburg last year.

McGill, a Picayune product who led five Lady 'Cats in double figures, also grabbed a game-high eight rebounds.

Norma Pendarvis, a Forrest County AHS sophomore, added 14 points, followed by Michelle Dorsey with 13, Sonja Robertson with 11 and Tammy Clark with 10.

Dorsey is a Bay St. Louis freshman and Clark is a Sumrall freshman. Robertson is a sophomore from Pearl River Central.

PRC held a 37-36 lead at intermission. The Lady 'Cats were scheduled to play Clarke College Tuesday at 6 p.m. in the Marvin R. White Coliseum and Faulkner State at home Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

Other sophomores on the team include Deanna Tynes of Hancock North Central and Millie Wilks of Columbia Academy.

Freshmen include Mary Arvel of Donaldsonville, LA; Mary Henry of Poplarville, Shannon Patterson of Sumrall, Suzanne Smith of Oak Grove, and Terry Hollingsworth of Hattiesburg.

Arvel is the only out-of-district player Kirkland has on the team. The Lady 'Cats managers are Caprice Doby, Katrina Lundy and Paula Cuevas.

Since the first week of school Coach Kirkland has been putting her club through six days a week practice sessions. The sessions include a rigorous running program as well as jumping ropes and lifting weights.

The Lady Wildcats first division game is set for Thursday, Nov. 19 on the road against Utica.

Smoke Out event set in Hattiesburg

The Institute for Wellness and Sports Medicine in Hattiesburg is supporting American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout Thursday, Nov. 19 with a 'Cold Turkey Trot' around the Methodist Hospital track.

For 24 hours from midnight Wednesday to midnight Thursday, smokers are invited to give up cigarettes for the day and take to the track to walk or jog across America.

Individuals will log their miles with a staff member who will be stationed in the gazebo on Methodist Hospital's track for the 24-hour period.

The goal of 3,000 total miles walked or jogged is symbolic of a coast-to-coast crossing of America.

Prizes will be given away to participants. Participants must be present to win turkeys, which will be given away every hour and T-shirts that will be given away every half-hour.

Free well-check assessments and free passes to smoke stoppers classes will also be given away. A Jump-A-Loon will be provided for the children who walk laps.

For more information, call 268-5010.
